“ I could share so many wonderful memories of my sister, Dianna, but will try to keep it simple. She was so wonderful to me that I couldn't have ever asked for more. No matter what was going on in her life, she ALWAYS had time for me. She sat y my bedside for days on end, never leaving the hospital while I was fighting to start breathing on my own after my heart bypass. That's love! She helped me whenever she saw a need, no matter what that need was. That's love! She's prayed for me a thousand prayers. That's love! She has made me laugh a million Times and brought so much joy into my life. That's love! I could go on and on with examples of her love for me but instead, I'd just like for you to know, when you see the tears streaming down my face...that's love! Rest in peace, my dear sister. I'll meet you on the banks of the river Jordan one day soon!

“ I know you and her shared a special bond. One so deep that no one else will ever understand. That's how she rolled. Just like dad-she made everyone feel like they were special and his favorite. What a wonderful way to live life. You are both so important to me but Diane is no longer with us and I need you here with me sister. So don't you dare leave me anytime soon. Diane is in a better place but I need you here with me. God and time will help heal our broken hearts so hang in there with me my dear sister. We will all be together again one day.
